MODRÝ PORTUGAL

The shade of red colour of this wine depends on the size of the crop, but its always less intensive than St. Lawrence wine. Young wine made out of Modrý Portugal has a fine floral fragrance that is extremely pleasant and supports youthful harmony of wine which seduces to take another sip. When the wine matures the aroma of fresh hay appears. Using special technology called carbon maceration creates the possibility to make very pleasant type of young red wine out of Modrý Portugal. These species have been used together with Lemberger wine to achieve faster ripening and to soften the hardness of acids and tannins in Lemberger. Recommended temperature is 12–14 °C.
